

A9 Dualling: Tay Crossing to Ballinluig Project – General Wades Military Road & Regional Cycle Route 83 Closure/Diversion at Guay to Kindallachan

Date: 09 February 2026

We wish to inform you of upcoming active travel management measures affecting the area between Guay and Kindallachan taking place as part of the A9 Dualling: Tay Crossing to Ballinluig project works.

From Monday 16 February 2026 until August 2027, a section of the Regional Cycle Route 83 (RCR83) and a section of General Wades Military Road at Kindallachan will be temporarily closed to all pedestrian and cycle access. The location of the closure is between Guay Farmhouse and the north end of RRCR83 at Kindallachan, a map below shows the location. This closure is required to allow the road to be safely upgraded as part of A9 Dualling: Tay Crossing to Ballinluig works.

Diversions will be in place for users of the route, as follows:

Cyclists are advised to use the National Cycle Network Route 77 (NCN77) at the start of RCR83, northbound from Dunkeld and will be advised to rejoin RCR83 at Logierait, Southbound. Advanced notice signage is placed throughout the route to advise cyclists of this diversion.

The diversion via NCN77 between Dunkeld and Logierait is approximately 9.6 miles, with an estimated journey time of 49 minutes, adding around 3 minutes to typical cycle times in comparison to the use of RCR83.

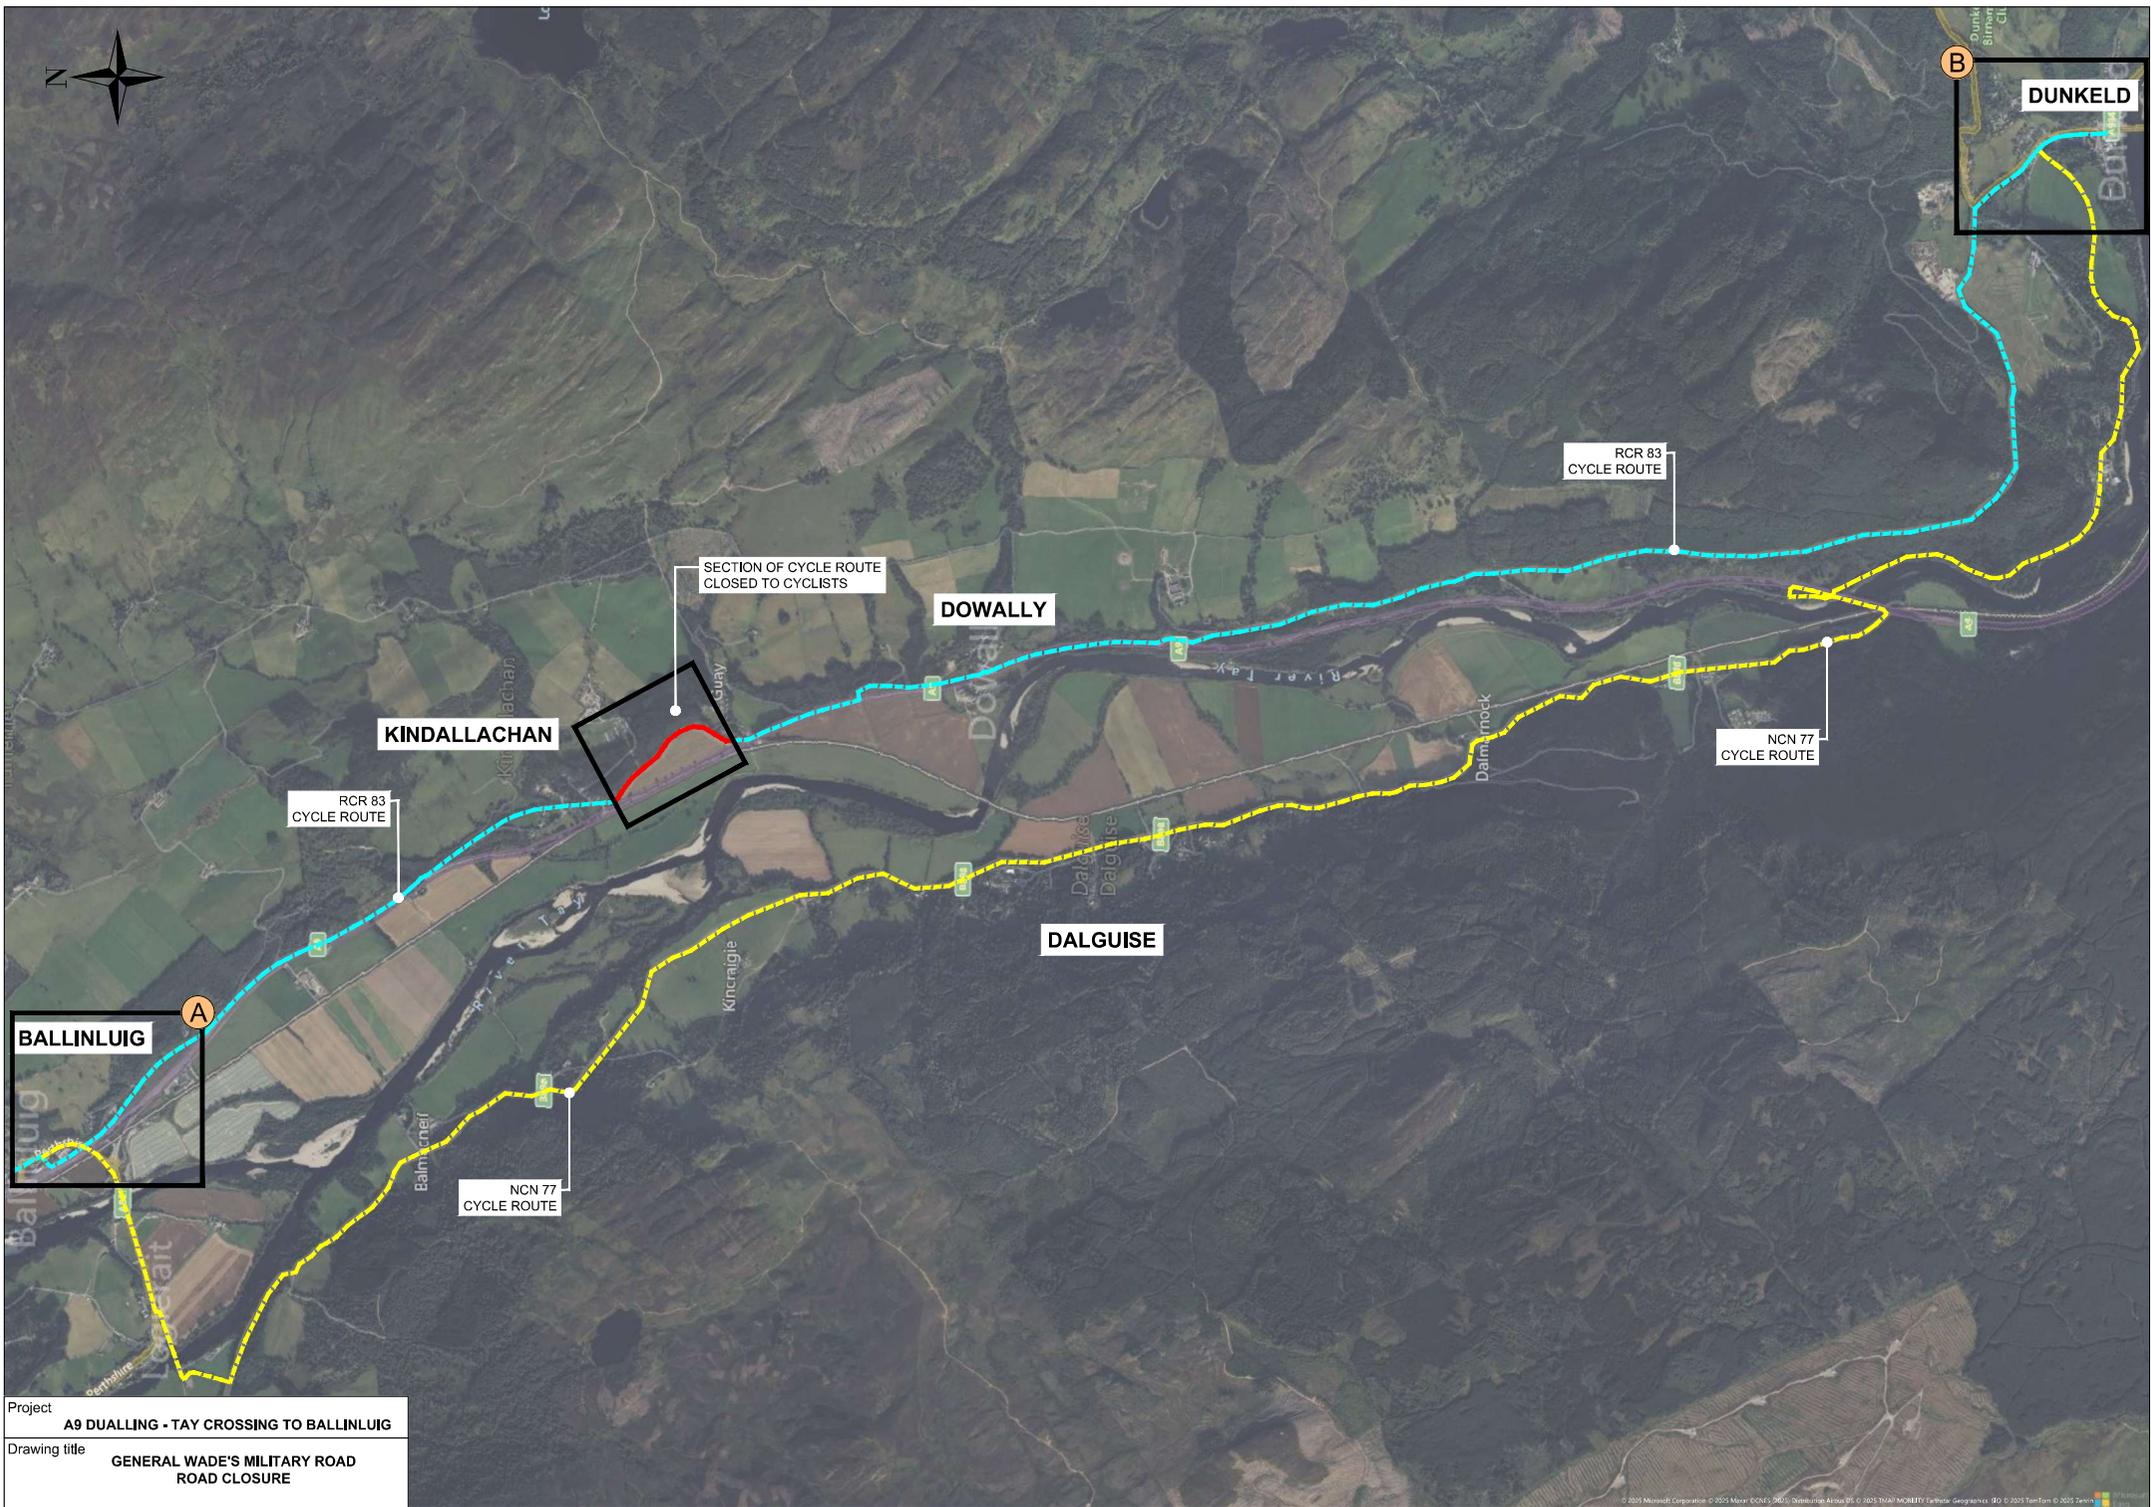

Pedestrian access will remain in place up to Guay (Northbound) or Kindallachan (Southbound) with signage then directing pedestrians to an alternative pedestrian-only route along the existing footpath adjacent to the A9 on Southbound carriageway.

Advance notice signage will be placed at key approach points including Ballinluig, Dunkeld Guay and Kindallachan.

Users should note that access along the closed section will not be permitted at any time during the works to ensure safety of workforce and the public.

If you have any questions or concerns about these works or the wider project, please don't hesitate to contact us via email at enquiries.A9TC2B@willsbros.com or alternatively by telephone on 0800 011 4255.

Yours faithfully,
